

Yesterday morning...the Lord woke me up and shared five things in quick succession...

1. The faith I given you is sufficient!

I have given you all that pertains to life and godliness. I haven given you the measure required, for the works I have prepared for you. Believe! and the mountain in your path will be removed because I've equipped you to remove it! O you of little faith! Even your mustard seed faith moves mountains!

2. This Easter, the greatest gift of gratitude and thanksgiving you can give to Me is to access the fruit of My Son's labours.

In the power of the Holy Ghost He led your captivity captive. Praise Him for that, but don't stop there, take hold of the gifts He has given to you.

3. Throughout this pandemic God's people have advanced, the signs and wonder of your faith is all around. I have kept you, strengthened you with a tenacity that endures and that holds on like Jacob and won't let go until I bless you!

4. I saw a Spearhead which God had thrown with His strong right arm, cutting through the air, piercing through the atmosphere to hit the target.

5. I saw the highway of holiness upon which we walked and though it was flanked on either side of the road by distracting demons we stayed focussed on the path of glory, with eyes of faith we walked on, our extraordinary destiny in sight.
